Oblates of Mary Immaculate (From the Catholic Encyclopedia 1917.)

Canada. – Until recent years the evangelization of the Canadian West and of British Columbia was the almost exclusive work of the Oblate Fathers, as that of the extreme north still is. Cathedrals, churches, and colleges were built by them, and often handed over to secular clergy or to other religious communities (as in the case of the St. Boniface College, which is at present flourishing under the direction of the Society of Jesus.) The Archbishopric of St. Boniface since 1853, and the episcopal Sees of St. Albert, Prince Albert, with the Vicariates of Anthabaska and Mackenzie since their foundation, have been, and are occupied by Oblates. That of New Westminster ceased to be so in 1908. The diocese of Ottawa had an Oblate as first bishop, and owes the foundation of most of its parishes and institutions to members of the congregation, who have also founded a number of the centres in the new Vicariates of Temiskaming and the Gulf of St. Lawrence, as well as in the Diocese of Chicoutimi. Among the recent labours of the Oblates in the West a special mention must be given to the religious organization of Germans, Poles, and Ruthenians. The new Vicariate of Keewatin (1910) is entrusted to an Oblate bishop, whose missionaries are devoted to the regeneration of nomadic Indian tribes.

...the Oblates directed the pilgrimage shrines in Canada of Our Lady of the Rosary at Cap de Madeleine, Quebec, and Our Lady of Lourdes at Ville Marie and Duck Lake at Saskatoon.

Establishments of Education and Formation

For the Congregation (1) Scholasticates affording a course of two years in philosophy and social science (three years in Rome), and of four years in theology and sacred sciences according to the spirit and method of St. Thomas. The Roman scholastics follow the programme of the Gregorian University, and graduate in philosophy, theology, canon law and Scripture. The scholastics at Ottawa graduate in philosophy and theology at the university of which they form an integral part.

...Industrial schools with full instruction in farming and craftsmanship by lay brothers and assistants in Manitoba (3), Alberta Saskatchewan (3), British Columbia (3), and Australia (1). There are also about fifteen Indian boarding-schools in the Canadian West.

A warm welcome to all visitors and to those who are attending Mass at our Parish, or the Extraordinary Form of the Roman Rite, for the first time.

Fr. Webb will be away on vacation from Monday 08 August through Wednesday 31 August. During that time Fr. Jacques Breton FSSP (08-16 August) and Fr. Ralph Oballo FSSP (17-31 August) will be covering the Masses here in Saskatoon.

Thanks to Fathers Breton and Oballo for helping to cover the Saskatoon apostolate during this time.

Congratulations to those who completed the pilgrimage from St. Peter's cathedral in Muenster to Assumption Church in Marysburg.

Well done, and may you receive many graces!

*

Sunday 07 August will be the final Sung Mass for the month of August. For the rest of August the choir will take a break and the Sunday Mass will be a Low Mass.

The Choir will resume Sung Masses on Sunday 04 September.

*

Just a reminder that after Sunday Mass, all are invited to gather at Buena Vista Park, on Victoria Ave., just a few hundred metres down 8th Street and turn left on Victoria Ave.

There is plenty of parking all around the Park, so please bring your vehicle and park there, so that the parking lot at St. Josoph's is available for parishioners at their Mass later this morning.
